The spring term of school will begin on Monday, May 1.

Oliver Delphia had quite a serious accident on Monday. He was coming home from Middlebury with a load of goods for D. H. Bennett and when near the Fair bridge the team having the lead (he was driving four horses) became separated from the pole team, and the reins, being over his shoulder, dragged him to the ground. In trying to release himself from the entanglement, one of the wheels passed over his right leg, breaking it near the ankle. His right hand was also slightly jammed. He was taken home in another wagon and Dr. Blaisdell was called, who set the broken member. Mr. Delphia is doing as well as could be expected, but it will be some weeks before he will be able to be about again.

Stevens; executive committee, J. W. Stevens, H. C. James, Fayette Searle; business committee, F. H. Warner, H. S. Cobb, J. W. Stevens.

The house belonging to Amos Atwood, which he purchased of Mrs. Marselles last fall, after having been blown to pieces by the hurricane, was destroyed by fire on Friday last. Report says it was well insured.

Major Edward Doud of Sheffield, Ala., who has been the past eight months in Port Henry, N. Y., engaged in the repairing of the Cedar Point furnace and also having the managing control of the same, spent Monday night in town in the home of his father, Sylvester Doud, Esq., on his return to his family in the South. Mr. Doud's reputation as an iron-maker is hardly to be surpassed. He has made this business his life's work and has been eminently successful in it, arriving at the top round of the ladder. It is quite probable he may come North again, as his services have been solicited in superintending the work of furnace-building in another part of the State.

The annual missionary tea, which was given by the Ladies' Missionary society at their rooms on the afternoon of March 30, was largely attended. A special programme had been prepared for this meeting, which was of much interest and quite entertaining. The thank offering envelopes which had been previously distributed by our worthy and efficient secretary were collected by Miss Daisy Potter, and as they were each deposited in the plate an appropriate scripture text was also given. A handsome sum was realized. A pleasing feature of the occasion was the presence of so many of the young ladies and gentlemen. The tables were filled with refreshments, abundant and excellent. Our thanks are due the gentlemen for their presence and also for their voluntary offerings.

Rather risky—the offer that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Risky for them. For you, if you have Catarrh, it's a certainty. You're certain to be cured of it, or to be paid $500. That's what they offer, and in good faith—they cure you, or pay you, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing.

But—is it so much of a risk? They have a medicine that cures Catarrh, not for a time, but for all time. They've watched it for years, curing the most hopeless cases. They know that in your case there's every chance of success, almost no chance of failure.

Wouldn't any one take such a risk with such a medicine?

The only question is—are you willing to make the test, if the makers are willing to take the risk?

If so, the rest is easy. You pay your druggist fifty cents and the trial begins.
